WHY / problem and value

Fork merges need independent execution tied to the actual head and integration checkout.

WHAT / change scope

Add read-only fork checks, original-epoch replay and check-out receipts. Preserve upstream preview checks under their upstream repository identity.

HOW / implementation rationale

Pin tools/actions; replay introduced controls at original trees. Build both adapters in clean independent snapshots and persist every completed process outcome. Query live jobs and their Git identities.

WHERE / affected paths

.github/workflows/scripts/verification/; scripts/reports/integration.py tests/reports/; tests/verification/
docs/engineering/integration.md

PRESERVED / existing contracts

Inherited application bytes, runtime commands and 986 locked packages retain their identity. Fork preview jobs are explicitly not applicable; no deployment is performed.

RISK / what could go wrong

Changed application inputs require an extended verified gate contract. Recorded success cannot override missing or failed live jobs.

LIMITATIONS / what is not proved

116 tests, both builds and actionlint 1.7.12 pass. Mutation probes reject polluted adapter inputs and altered pages, commands and locks. An unpublished failed replay is retained; committed replay, Actions and review follow authoring.

ROLLBACK / restore and verify

Revert workflow and candidate/identity tools together in a reported change. Retain upstream checks and evidence; stop promotion until replacement checks pass.

VALIDATION / actual local evidence

Remote validation at authoring: NOT_RUN. Later CI belongs to the immutable commit's check records, not a follow-up report commit.
